The other prisoners think Phelps is playing for effect.

In 1893 the Town and Lands Company of Middlesborough paid taxes on $1,198,-$55 worth of property; in 1894 their property was assessed at $476,769, and this year they want the assessment reduced to $33,149. Private property holders at Middlesborough are protesting that if the Town and Lands Company is allowed a reduction in assessment of about one-fifth from the assessment of 1898, then all the property in the city should be appraised at the same reduced rate. The city taxes of Middlesborough, it is said, would scarcely he worth collecting if the Town and Lands Company is allowed the reduction claimed, and other property reduced in the same proportion.
